A Few Words From The East

Fraternal Greetings, Brethren-

I am so incredibly proud of St. Alban Lodge No. 529! Our March Stated meeting was a wonderful experience, and the energy in the Lodge room was palpable. The ritual was flawless, and everyone worked to create a welcoming and enjoyable environment for our visiting District Officers and our visiting Brethren from The Most Worshipful Prince Hall Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania! Thank you all for your efforts and for working to exemplify Freemasonry! Your achievements are noticed, and the DDGM wanted me to pass along his thanks and congratulations on a most excellent evening.

I have a challenge for you this month to exercise our minds and put Freemasonry into practice in our daily lives: Brother Benjamin Franklin, RWPGM was said to start his day with the question "What good shall I do this day?" and end his day with a follow-up question, "What good have I done today?" Bro. Franklin lived during the enlightenment period and was a student of philosophy. It is supposed that the philosopher, Socrates, stated "An unexamined life is not worth living." To further add to this sentiment, Aristotle (who studied under Plato) was said to have stated "An unplanned life is not worth examining."

How do all of these historical quotes apply to us as modern-day Freemasons? I think it is a great practice for us to plan our lives and reflect on what we learn, just as Bro. Franklin did. As Freemasons, we are charged with doing good unto all, more especially to those who are of the household of the faithful.

Please set aside a few minutes in the mornings and evenings this month to journal about what good you plan to do and what good you've done each day. I would like to hear from you about how it goes! It would be great to get a collection and read what good our Brethren have thought of doing what good we have done, at our next Stated Meeting. (Please email/text me if you would like me to share what you write with the Brethren: schwirian.kyle@gmail.com / 610-389-6689).

Fraternally Yours,

Kyle A. Schwirian
Worshipful Master
